Hmmm, you're pretty good at this. After Cameron graduated from highschool, he eventually went back to work at said school for a summer as a substitute teacher. Can you tell me how much he made that summer in USD?

Format: byuctf{Amount in USD} Example:

Methodology

1 — Back to LinkedIn

Already familiar with Cameron's profile from Hometown Hero 5. Went straight to his experience section and looked for any post-high school roles at Richmond schools. Found it: Substitute Teacher at Richmond Community Schools, May 2023 – Jul 2023, 3 months, Richmond Indiana, on-site.

2 — The salary problem

His LinkedIn listed no salary. His Substack had no mention of earnings. The Richmond Community Schools HR page has a Non-Certified Salary Schedule document but the PDF was inaccessible. Daily substitute rates in Indiana vary widely — guessing from a range was too risky even with 10 attempts.

3 — Indiana public salary database

Indiana publishes public employee compensation data. Searched for Cameron Snider in Richmond Community School Corporation records. Found an entry: Cameron Snider J — Summer Student Maintenance — Richmond Community School Corporation — Wayne County, Indiana — Salary 2023: $1,081.

4 — Note on the job title mismatch

His LinkedIn says 'Substitute Teacher' but the public salary record lists him as 'Summer Student Maintenance.' Same employer, same period. Likely the official payroll title differs from how he described the role on LinkedIn. The salary figure was solid.

5 — Submit

byuctf{$1,081} — correct.

Key Takeaway

Indiana — like many US states — publishes public employee salary data openly. When a target works for any government-funded institution (schools, councils, public hospitals), their compensation is often on record. This is a core OSINT technique: know which records are public in the target's jurisdiction and go there directly instead of guessing.
